Top achievers for Term 1 are showing that it is possible

Our team had a one on one interview with Sinovuyo Totolo so that she can also motivate some of us to strive for the best. She said that her secret is very simple, she listens attentively to teachers, hard working and eager to learn. Sinovuyo also mentioned the fact that learners are lazy to do their homework and that could be a recipe for disaster come end of the year. She said that it also helps to have a family that is willing to assist you and also understands you. I hope that our fellow students will be motivated by this.

On Monday the 20th Liwa Primary embraced our top achievers for term one, these are the learners who became number one across all subjects. We congratulated Lisakhanya Stevens, Zethu Ndleleni who are no strangers to fame with regards to competitions. Sinovuyo Totolo, Sivuyile Ntongo and Lilitha Masina, whom we look forward to great things with them. They must all keep it up and make our School shine. We would like to thank Mr Simanga who initiated this idea! Thank you Sir so much.

We would like to thank the parents who have been paying the R50 for the last three months. You have made a difference in our education. We urge other parents to get involved as well; we need your support and so does Mr. Andrew.

Photoshoot on 5/06/2015, from 8h00 – 13h00 (grade R -7) make sure your child does not miss this opportunity.

From Mr Simanga

We need your support Mzali

Singathanda ukuba abazali basixhase nge R2 rhoqo ngolwezihlano ukuze sikwazi ukuzithengela amaphepha la siwasebenzisa kule newsletter, ingakumbi Ink ngoba le project siyenzayo asiyongxenywe ye budget yesikolo! Siyacela bazali bethu. enkosi

Autumn seems to be good for the garden

We spoke to Mr Mapukata the man behind the beautiful garden that has become the main feature of our school. He says that the school is benefiting greatly with this project, he says his love for gardening has developed through helping other People. He also mentioned that he would appreciate it a lot if more learners were keen in learning about agricultural activities because he does needs their extra hands every now and then and he is willing to teach them when they show interest. So guys , to those who wants to learn, Mr Mapukata says you more than welcome!

A letter from our former learner! What an inspiration

Dear Mr Andrew, Ms Banzana, Mr Magopheni, Mr Ganamfana and Mrs F.M. Nodlela.

I wrote this to you, to thank you for your support and lecture of not letting friends take over my life. Without you I can't even describe what kind of a girl I would be now without you honorable teachers of Liwa Public Primary School and I thank God for giving me intelligent and supportive teachers like you. I also thank you for your knowledge and the opportunity that you gave me to study further. Today I am one of girls at Sinethemba High School

(Naledi Nooi on the right) Because of you. Your job is very good, keep doing it and never give up. Thank you for everything and God bless you all!! From Naledi Nooi

What a mouthfull, our teachers should be proud.

Grow smart is ready to rock and roll

We spoke to Mr Andrew with regard to grow smart competition and has re-assured us that the preparations for grow smart are going well. He said that learners are working very hard at practice. And are also busy writing stories for the story writing competition which is on the 06 of June 2015. By: S. Totolo

Grade 7 will be taking part in the first round of a national science competition, the astroquiz.

Liwa Primary support the campaign against XENOPHOBIA and condemn the act of XENOPHOBIA

Our Angels from abroad (Jonty & Maria)

we would like to give a lot of thanks beyond measures to these incredible couple for always helping our school in difficult moments. jonty and his wife Malia have given our school a sponsorship that will enable us to keep Mr Andrew for longer than what we have anticipated. these couple have been the pillar of our school in difficult times. on behalf of our school we thank you so much for your immense support.
By: S. Buka

however, we would like to emphasise to our parents that this does not mean they have to stop giving their R50 every month as other parents have continuously been doing so for the past couple of months. to those who have not paid yet, we still hopeful that you will eventually come to your senses and realise that it is about your child's education, we wouldn't have asked if we didn't care.

Huge concern about absenteeism

Teachers are very much concerned about children who do not come to school on regular basis without any substantial reasons or medical report if they were sick. parents needs to communicate properly with teachers when the child is or unable to attend school on a particular day. Miss Nokuzola urges parents to keep checking their kid's bags for homeworks.

Water affairs competition on the way.

Miss Banzana would like to remind parents about water affairs competition on the 9th of May 2015. she is positive that they are ready for it, Iviwe Xolo and her team have been practising non-stop to make sure they deliver. Miss Banzana is asking for your prayers, we will definately be praying for tem to bring those tickets.
